

As Support for our Customer Support Team located in Rheinmünster/Baden-Baden we want to recruit a

Technical Trainer (m/f) – Customer Support EMEA

The primary task of the Regional Technical Trainer is to perform maintenance / service training classes on selected Stratasys products the training is for partners and Stratasys employees. Secondary responsibilities include developing, scheduling training classes and preparing and maintaining training lab equipment. The position is to ensure that our partners / employees receives a high level of technical expertise to install and maintain Stratasys products. The training classes will be hold in our EMEA HQ and on-site locations

Main Tasks:

- Conducts basic and advanced maintenance training classes to Stratasys employees and Distributor service personnel. Trainings are hold in English.
- Maintains training facilities including classrooms, systems, and training equipment
- Participates in document review processes and provide feedback to publishers regarding accuracy and completeness of technical documentation.
- Perform and coordinate special projects as assigned by the Manager of the regional training department.
- Deliver E-learning and Web-Based training programs as required.

Qualifications:

- Good technical background or qualification.
- Experience with implementing and conducting technical trainings in English.
- Experience in performing technical trainings.
- In-depth knowledge of electro-mechanical systems and software.
- Knowledge of CAD and presenting software / hardware is an advantage
- Excellent communication and customer care skills
- Very good skills in German and English
- Ability to travel

What we can offer additionally:

- diversified work
- strongly growing company
- Perspective & Developing
- Intensive induction phase
- Employee benefits
- Possibility to shape
- Friendly colleagues
- Fun at work

You are interested?

Then please send your detailed application, including the indication of your salary expectations and the availability to our e-mail: career.emea@stratasys.com. We look forward to receiving your application!

Stratasys Ltd., the innovation leader in 3D printing systems for rapid prototyping and additive manufacturing. Our systems are in use by world leaders in many industries, such as education, medical and dental, electronics, automotive, toys, consumer goods and footwear industries worldwide. We, Stratasys GmbH headquartered in Rheinmünster (Germany), are the European Distribution and Service Center for Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA).

Your contact:

Stratasys GmbH
Airport Boulevard B120
77936 Rheinmünster

career.emea@stratasys.com
www.stratasys.com

